

Keep the Conversation Going

What is your personal connection to MAiD? What questions, experiences, or challenges has this topic raised for you or someone close to you?

What place does suffering have in Christian witness? How might suffering sometimes be something Christians are called to receive faithfully, rather than simply eliminate?

What would it look like for you to be a faithful presence in the context of extreme suffering? How might you walk with someone who is considering MAiD when you do not support their decision?

How would you articulate a Biblical Christian response to MAiD? How can we hold together a deep commitment to the sanctity of life with a genuine compassion for those who are suffering?
